

MoNA

Museum of Northwest Art

Dave Buck is a retired business lawyer living on Decatur Island. He spent 45 years practicing real estate and corporate law in Seattle. He represented cultural institutions, non-profit organizations, residential real estate providers, senior living operators, architects, family offices and investors. He served as a board chair for the Frye Art Museum and ArtsFund. He has experience with non-profit operations, governance, management, strategic planning and fund raising.